

The missions of the CSHLA include to:

- (1) remember the Holocaust,
- (2) educate our community and the public by telling our personal life-stories, and
- (3) raise awareness and prevent such tragedies from happening to anyone today or in the future.

We who personally experienced the insecurity, anguish, and stress from cruel separation as victims of the Third Reich, are dismayed and outraged by the ruthless separation of infants, toddlers, and adolescents from their parents. The irreparable damage resulting from such actions has been scientifically and clinically proven to impair human development. Keeping the mission of our organization in mind, we reject these abusively tragic tactics or the racist prejudices underlying them.

IN RECOGNITION OF THE 150TH ANNIVERSARY OF KANSAS CITY PUBLIC SCHOOLS

HON. EMANUEL CLEAVER

OF MISSOURI

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, July 10, 2018

Mr. CLEAVER. Mr. Speaker, I proudly rise today to recognize and celebrate the 150th Anniversary of Kansas City Public Schools (KCPS) and its many contributions to youth in Kansas City. As a cornerstone of the community, I am truly honored to have this institution in the Congressional District that I represent.

Kansas City Public Schools began humbly as the Kansas City Missouri School District in 1867, serving only 2,150 children in the Kansas City area. Since its formation, KCPS has faced and overcome many hurdles, from segregation and racial barriers in the 1960s, to funding and accreditation in the 1980s to the early 2000s. Throughout these challenges, KCPS has exemplified true resilience and shaped the future of education in Kansas City for the better. In its journey to gain full accreditation, KCPS turned times of struggle into opportunities for advancement, exploration, and innovation. The KCPS system launched mentor programs to conscientiously provide students with support and guidance. Recently, it spearheaded the Middle College Program that allows students who have dropped out of school to complete their high school education and prepare for technical school or a two-year degree program at no cost. Moreover, it fostered community partnerships with the public sector, private sector, business leaders, volunteers, and stakeholders to ensure the district has resources to meet the needs of every student and their family. KCPS has faced adversity, but never threw in the towel.

The KCPS system established itself as a source of stability for not only education, but also for families and the community. KCPS preserves its commitment to fostering a rich, diverse, and inclusive environment by providing services for English language learners, homeless students in transition, students with learning disabilities, and many others. This pledge to both student and family outreach demonstrates true assiduity and ensures that education is an equitable opportunity for all.

Today, the Kansas City Public School system employs 2,300 teachers and educates nearly 16,700 students annually. Of these, nearly 91 percent of students come from marginalized communities, and more than 50 languages are spoken in its 35 schools, centers, and programs. KCPS gives students the tools necessary to be college and career-ready, empowering them to achieve their dreams.

KCPS sets itself apart as an innovator, advocate, and champion. Undoubtedly, a century and a half of educating youth and serving the community is no easy feat. However, the spirit of the district, dedication of the administrators and teachers, and the commitment to growth is what allows the Kansas City Public School system to continue achieving its vision.

In our diverse city with students from all walks of life, the importance of having access to a quality public education is critical in ensuring doors of opportunity for the youth of Kansas City continue to open. It gives me great hope for the future knowing that institutions like KCPS are devoted to a holistic support system for its scholars. I can say with confidence that the KCPS legacy will continue to shape the minds of students for generations to come.

Mr. Speaker, please join me in honoring the students and staff, both past and present, who made it possible for Kansas City Public Schools to achieve this monumental milestone.

BORN ON THE FOURTH OF JULY,
IN HONOR OF AMERICA'S 242ND
BIRTHDAY

HON. PETE SESSIONS

OF TEXAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, July 10, 2018

Mr. SESSIONS. Mr. Speaker, I rise in honor of America's 242nd birthday this Fourth of July, with a poetic tribute penned by Albert Carey Caswell to be included in the RECORD.

BORN ON THE FOURTH OF JULY

(By Albert Carey Caswell)

Born on The Fourth of July

As out towards Freedom and Independence a future Nation would cry

With its Founding Fathers casting their dye
With a Decoration of Independence, they all signed

Knowing full well it could mean death they would find

Declaring a Decoration of Independence was but their battle cry

As Thomas Jefferson created a work of art which now stands the test of time

And a Constitution so sublime

Sent out into a future for a world to remind Of what hearts of courage full in search for Independence and Freedom can find

As a template,

to build the very bedrock upon which will stand the sands of time

And on this day with all of our families celebrating we must find

The cost of Freedom for all of us to remind
As we should stand with tear in eye

In our Nation's Pride

For all of our brave men and women,
who throughout the generations have fought and died,

Of such selfless sacrifice so fine

With hearts of courage full in our Lord's eyes so divine

Who one day a place in heaven would find

As now comes to mind

Are all of those families who are no longer together in time

Who together no longer can celebrate this Fourth of July

As its for them and their lost loved ones we cry

Who we should be worshiped on high,

So as we watch the rockets' red glare,

And all those fireworks exploding in air,

Holding our families close there,

Remember all of those who throughout the generations who've cared.

Those brave women and men like our Founding Forefathers who've dared

To stand tall and fight for our Freedoms and Independence we declared

And how the cost of Freedoms leaves these families hearts of the lost loved ones so bare

Who live with the kind of pain only Heaven can repair.

So, on this day give thanks and give prayer
For all the magnificent and their families who took up the battle who dared

And fight for our Freedom and Independence declare

As it all started 242 years ago

When the blossoms of Freedom were planted to bloom and grow

All planted by our Founding Fathers there so

Declaring a Declare ration of Independence for all the world to know

And nourished throughout the years,

by all of our braves sons and daughters here
Who have shed their blood and tears

And died here

In this Home of The Brave and Land of The Free that we endear

So, as you gaze into Old Glory,

that Red, White, and Blue

Let's remember our Forefathers Declaration of Independence and all those Patriots, who are America's real Who's Who

And what was Born on The Fourth of July so true.

MCCARTER-CAISSE-VICE-HALE
MEMORIAL OVERPASS

HON. JOHN SHIMKUS

OF ILLINOIS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, July 10, 2018

Mr. SHIMKUS. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to commemorate the McCarter-Caisse-Vice-Hale Memorial Overpass in Paxton, Illinois.

On April 7, 1979, Illinois State trooper Michael McCarter was attempting to stop four speeding vehicles on I-57 and Paxton patrolman William Caisse was dispatched to provide assistance. One of the suspects fled to the overpass and opened fire on the two officers, subsequently killing State Trooper McCarter and Donald Vice, McCarter's brother-in-law who was riding along with him on his shift.

Paxton patrolman Larry Hale arrived to the scene as gunfire continued. A second suspect drew a rifle from the back of his pickup truck and fatally shot Officer Caisse. Hale was then shot in the leg and chest, but despite his
